Ghostkeeper

Why you always gotta hit round here
They were wishin' that you'd disappear
You keep waitin' on your head to clear
Ghostkeeper
You're the only one that's still alone
When the storm hits where we used to love
Is it ever gonna be enough?

Ghostkeeper

All the mornings that you can't get through
And the nights that you're alone with you
Live a lifetime just to be confused
Ghostkeeper
You keep holdin' on to what we were
While you tell yourself it's you who's cursed
But it's not your fault that I went first
