

Should we ride to the North until the South
To the western wonders
Burning all desires, tell me
Should we go somewhere high together now
Till the eastern colors
Lovers undercover

Should we ride to the North until the South
To the western wonders
Burning all desires, tell me
Should we go somewhere high together now
Till the eastern colors
Lovers undercover

Stuck in this fake place
Just looking out the window
He turns a blind eye
To see how far he can go
Tell me my love why
Should we forget what we know
Forget how it was
When we were young years ago

Should we ride to the North until the South
To the western wonders
Burning all desires, tell me
Should we go somewhere high together now
Till the eastern colors
Lovers undercover

I don't know where I
Could go forever with you
Take you somewhere high
A secret place just for two
We should leave there now
This is our chance to break through
No more hateful lies
A secret place just for you

Should we ride to the North until the South
To the western wonders
Burning all desires, tell me
Should we go somewhere high together now
Till the eastern colors
Lovers undercover

I don't know where I
Could go forever with you
Take you somewhere high
This is our chance to break through
No more hateful lies
