

Nylon

Kilo

I don't wanna die young, die young
Someone to rely on, side on
Don't want no one to cry on, stretched as thin as nylon
I'm forcing a smile, treated me like a child
Breaking in like a tidal

Something's come over me
And I don't wanna break your trust
Is it so wrong of me
That I don't wanna keep us lost?

Lots to process, hanging on
Locked between the concepts, grey and bleak
What do we want most if nothing's quite as sweet?
As how I felt in your home
Self control, self control, self composed

Something's come over me
And I don't wanna break your trust
Is it so wrong of me
That I don't wanna keep us lost?

What's the cost?
Missing the sweet life

I don't wanna die young
I don't wanna hold us back
No shoulder to cry on
No, I'm not ready for that
I don't wanna die young
I don't wanna hold us back
Someone to rely on
Need someone to rely on

I don't wanna die young
I don't wanna hold us back (Over, something's coming over me)
No shoulder to cry on
No, I'm not ready for that
I don't wanna die young
I don't wanna hold us back (Over, something's coming over me)
I'm stretched like a child
Not cool with me, with that

I don't wanna die young
I don't wanna hold us back
I just wanna try it
Not ready to die yet
I don't wanna die young
So close to crying
Someone to rely on
Not ready to die yet

Something's come over me
And I don't wanna break your trust
Is something wrong with me?
'Cause I don't wanna keep us lost

What's the cost?

I don't wanna die young

I don't wanna die young (Over, something's coming over me)

No shoulder to cry on

No, I'm not ready for that

I don't wanna die young

I don't wanna hold us back (Over, something's coming over me)

Someone to rely on

Over, something's coming over me
