

In The Walls

Knocked Loose

Selfish lies
To keep you inside
Selfish lies
I'll keep you

I see you when I sleep
You live inside a dream
In that world I'm someone different
Someone I could never be

Mixed up in a violent wind
You were thrown to the wolves
From my hands you start to slip
I did everything I could

Laid flat onto the earth
Everything decays
It was just you, me and her
All of our suffering fades

I will hold on to to that memory
Until your skin turns grey
I will keep you in my walls
Holding on till you slip away...

I'll hide you in my walls
