

Mistakes Like Fractures

Knocked Loose

The light is stopped by the tree line
And I am chained to the ground
I see the horns in the tall grass
They still follow me around

Mistakes like fractures
Hiding underneath the skin
Mistakes like fractures
Buried underneath the weight of sin

I will atone
For the things I've done here
And God only knows
That it's all stuck in my head

God fell silent
When I cried out

I cry out

I cry out for an ending
An escape that is over due
Faced with the final judgement
No hand to pull me through

Mistakes like fractures
Hiding underneath the skin
Mistakes like fractures
Buried under all my sin

I followed the rabbit
And I found my fucking ending

I see the horns
They follow me down
God fell silent
When I cried out
