

Girl On The Internet

Knox

She's got the likes
She's got the followers
And she's got some lies
I know they still follow her
She puts on a face
New friends bring new shoes
But she's not the same
Girl that I once knew, oh
She was never one to do it for attention
But now she does it for the money and the mentions

So let's give it for the girl on the internet
Trying to convince the whole world she's fine
Let's give for the girl who's never been better
Acting so happy online, oh
So addicted to the comments, comments
But she never being honest, honest
No, she's so not alright
Trying to convince the whole wide world that she's fine
(Fine, fine, she's so not alright)
(Fine, fine, she's so not alright)

I've seen that smile
It's so familiar
She tries to hide it
But I see right through that filter, no
And isn't it sad how this black glass screen
Might be the only thing she ever needs to be happy, no

So let's give it for the girl on the internet
Trying to convince the whole world she's fine
Let's give for the girl who's never been better
Acting so happy online, oh
So addicted to the comments, comments
But she never being honest, honest
No, she's so not alright
Trying to convince the whole wide world that she's fine
(Fine, fine, she's so not alright)
(Fine, fine, she's so not alright)

So let's give it for the girl on the internet
Trying to convince the whole world she's fine
Let's give for the girl who's never been better
Acting so happy online, oh
So addicted to the comments, comments
But she never being honest, honest
No, she's so not alright
Trying to convince the whole wide world that she's fine
(Fine, fine, she's so not alright)
(Fine, fine, she's so not alright)
