Knuckle Puck

Slow and steady through the change now
Flowin' with the fade out
The walls are caving in
The chemicals are in my brain now
I think I need a way out
The walls are caving in

And if you can't convey
Just what it is you're feeling
If you can't contain yourself
Could you blame me for leaving now?

So, where do we go from here?
Depends what you're running from
Cleverly insincere
Split away and burn the path

Sidechain

Feelin' heavy in the face now
Workin' through the breakdown
I guess I never knew my place
Now I'm trippin' through a ghost town

And if you can't convey
Just what it is you're feeling
Yeah if you can't contain yourself
Could you blame me? No, how could you?

So, where do we go from here?
Depends what you're running from
Cleverly insincere
And I got a feeling
That this could be catastrophe
But that's ok with me
And as the time fades
You'll wish I could stay
But I'm splitting away

If you forget that I'm a step behind
You can expect to find yourself in future ties
Just leave it all behind

So, where do we go from here?
Depends what you're running from
Cleverly insincere
And I got a feeling
That this could be catastrophe
But that's ok with me
And as the time fades
You'll wish I could stay
But I'm splitting away
