

I'm trying to learn and I'm dying to know
When to move on and when to let it go
A curious feeling no one can explain
I just don't know if I'll risk it again

When the future's so unsure
When the future's so unclear

So you swallow your heart and you swallow your pride
You gotta be tough if you wanna survive
They'll chew you up and they'll eat you alive
You shouldn't give up on the dreams in your mind

When the future's so unsure
When the future's so unclear
When the future's so unsure
When the future's so unclear

We walk, we walk on
Our time, our time will come
We walk, we walk on
Our time

When the future's so unsure (when the future's so unsure)
When the future's so unclear (when the future's so unclear)
When the future's so unsure
When the future's so unclear
