

Cold & Alone

Koe Wetzel

She said I need to speak
About the things that are bothering me
I can't explain the way I feel
Is this heaven or hell?
I keep it locked in a cell while she screams
I need to talk about it

I wish I could see
The picture my momma painted for me
You weren't in it but God almighty
I got your picture by the phone
If you call and I'm home I'll say
I wanna talk about

How you've been searching for the missing
Pieces to your heart and more and came back
Into it with nothing to show and you left me
Cold and alone
Cold and alone

Well, things change but I'm not worried about
The changing of things as you figure it out
And the loving and the leaving when you knew I was down
Is it easy to sleep at night?

When you been searching for the missing pieces
To your heart and more and came back
Into it with nothing to show and you left me
Cold and alone, cold and alone
Left me cold and alone, cold and alone

You left me cold and
You left me cold and alone
You left me cold and

You've been searching for the missing pieces
To your heart and more and came back
Into it with nothing to show and you left me
Cold and alone, cold and alone
Cold and alone, cold and alone
Left me cold and alone, cold and alone
