For Blood

Koffin Kats

Close the demon city gates and ring the sorrow bell
Sit with me at bedside as thy brothers under spell
I fear that he shall never wake
And the wind will speak his name
Silence within the desert night
Remember these dark days

For blood we raise a fist in the air in dedication
To the memory of one who rests eternally
For blood we sing in honor of our demon brother
To stay within our hearts
He will not fade away

He traveled on by sunrise but his body stayed behind
Moving from the mortal world to the shadows of the night
Silence within the city walls until the sun went down
On that night our voices sang out a memorial song
