

Pretty Lies

Kofi

I wrote you a letter
You cried me a river
I know it ain't working
I know that you're hurting
I know I ain't perfect
I'm not sure if it's worth it
I don't think you're my person
You were never my person

You just call me when you're drunk and lonely
I guess I'm just losing my patience
The way you act like we're not over
You could get a standing ovation
I kiss this bottle cause I should be kissing you
Know you don't miss me
You just miss me missing you

Pretty eyes
Pulling me in with all your pretty lies
I know I'm yours but were you ever mine
Yeah
You hit me up I'm thinking what if I
Let you come over hold you through the night
It kills me to say no, it's suicide
Like never mind
I've already said too much

You just call me when you're drunk and lonely
I guess I'm just losing my patience
The way you act like we're not over
You could get a standing ovation
I kiss this bottle cause I should be kissing you
Know you don't miss me
You just miss me missing you

You could never be my type
You're like your friends they lie
I always did you right
You stabbed me in my back
I pulled it out you did it twice
I can't believe you fucked with me and fucked with other guys
At the same time it was never me and you
I guess that it was me and you and you and who and who
All this time I still can't get no answers out of you
You did exactly what you told me you would never do
That's why I don't mind losing you

You just call me when you're drunk and lonely
I guess I'm just losing my patience
The way you act like we're not over
You could get a standing ovation
I kiss this bottle cause I should be kissing you
Know you don't miss me
You just miss me missing you

I wrote you a letter
You cried me a river

I know it ain't working
I know that you're hurting
I know I ain't perfect
I'm not sure if it's worth it
I don't think you're my person
You were never my person
