

Hate You Too

Kolby Cooper

I hate you too
The way you blame the planets for your own bad mood
The law should lock you up for how you drive
The truth is you don't know the half of what you put me through
I love you, baby, never say goodbye

You got a temper, you lose your head
You bitch and moan until you're running out of breath
I plead the 5th, I play along
It's hard to get to get it right when you ain't ever wrong

The way that god made me
Can drive a girl crazy
But I'm still good at making you smile
And maybe you're just hurting
Or maybe I deserve it
But baby, every once in a while

I hate you too
The way you blame the planets for your own bad mood
The law should lock you up for how you drive
The truth is you don't know the half of what you put me through
I love you, baby, never say goodbye

Yeah, I getcha hot like a 2 dollar pistol
Holding you's half of the rush
The heat from your eyes can burn me sometimes
When you put the fire in my blood

I hate you too
The way you blame the planets for your own bad mood
The law should lock you up for how you drive
The truth is you don't know the half of what you put me through
I love you, baby, never say goodbye...

I hate you too
The way you're mad at nothing like you're howling at the moon
You get away with murder when you cry
The truth is you don't know the half of what you put me through
I love you, baby, never say goodbye...
