

Terrified

Kongos

I went to sleep on a friday night
Saturday came at the speed of light
The floor was spinning and my head wasn't right
What I remember gave me such a fright

I say hey, nah nah
What's my name
I've only got myself to blame
I've had 20, 30 years on this earth
A quarter century of breath
Since my birth

I find myself alive (yeah)
Thank you, I'm doing fine
I don't wanna sleep or even take five
I find myself alive (yeah)
Thank you, I'm just fine
I don't need to sleep or even take five

I know it looks like
I'm doin' fine
And lately I've been
Terrified
I know it seems like
I'm doin' fine
Lately I've been
Terrified

I had my legs genetically modified
Now my old jeans can fit my vibes
I got a new walk, a new kind of stride
I find it goes along with my disguise

I say hey, nah nah
If it's all the same
I think I'll start again and change my name
You only live once or twice, what a shame
Somebody fucked up when designing this game

I find myself alive, yes
Thank you, I'm doing fine
I don't wanna sleep or even take five
I find myself alive, yes
Thank you, I'm just fine
I don't need to sleep or even take five

I know it looks like
I'm doin' fine
And lately I've been
Terrified
I know it seems like
I'm doin' fine
Lately I've been
Terrified

I know it looks like
I'm doin' fine

And lately I've been
Terrified
I know it seems like
I'm doin' fine
Lately I've been
Terrified
