

China Town

The Kooks

I'm twisting and I'm turning
Inside my own head
I'm tired and I'm learning
To not make it all bad
You're just a liar baby
You don't know who you are

And you know I had you pegged
From the first until the last thing that you said
And you know that I've got you down
All the way down to sweet China Town

You tried to convince me
That I was going mad
You wanted to conceal me
Inside of your vale of ash
But you know you're not so silent
Others hear what's going on

And you know I had you pegged
From the first until the last thing that you said
And you know that I've got you down
All the way down to sweet China Town

Maybe someone will love you the way you love yourself

And you know I had you pegged
From the first until the last thing that you said
And you know that I've got you down
All the way down to sweet China Town

I'm twisting and I'm turning
Inside my own head
