

Start From Scratch

Koryn Hawthorne

I don't always say things the right way
I don't always do things I can explain
Wish I could tell you why
At least you know I tried hard this time
I don't always follow the right road
And You don't always tell me where to go
I'm not really blaming you (Blaming you)
Is it okay to tell the truth (Tell the truth)

I think You should say something
'Cause maybe all this time
You've been on my side
And I ain't realize what you wanted
So let me make it right
Can we make it right?
'Cause it's all good 'til it's all bad

Can we start from scratch?
Tell me that you love me the same
And nothing has changed at all (Nothing at all)
Maybe we can start from scratch
(Scratch - Scratch - Scratch)
Maybe we can start from scratch
(Scratch - Scratch - Scratch - Scratch)
Maybe we can start from scratch
(Scratch - Scratch - Scratch)
Scratch

I know you're not looking for perfect
And a part of me wonders how I work and
After all this time
I got nothing left to hide (To hide)
I love more than a feeling
And it's more than the taking and giving
I know I don't always show You
Is it okay to tell the truth

I think You should say something
'Cause maybe all this time
You've been on my side
And I ain't realize what you wanted
So let me make it right
Can we make it right?
'Cause it's all good 'til it's all bad

Can we start from scratch?
Tell me that you love me the same
And nothing has changed at all (Nothing at all)
Can we start from scratch?
Tell me that you love me the same
And nothing has changed at all (Nothing at all)
