You've been stressing
I've been guessing
We've been texting
But where we supposed to go now?
Where we supposed to go now?
I said you've been guessing
I've been stressing
We've been texting
But where we supposed to go now?
Where we supposed to go now?

Yea I wanna Build with you
I wanna put you on a throne make it real with you
Have a kid build a home split the bill with you
Stay solid while we growing through the real issues
I'm finna be your hero
Stay a hunnid when you hitting zero
Motivation and show you love till there's no debating
I'll bring the sun to your lowest basement
Telling stories and my woman beating odds till she rose to greatness
It's been a cool winter
When you away I swear the air inside the room thinner
Ups and downs like I'm getting through a few chin-ups
I love you like I'm serving food and you a huge tipper
I'm here to serve make your life better everyday
I'm here to learn tell me how to love you in a way that make you purr
Pull off on my heart and leave my ego on the curb
Give you every part of me and all that you deserve
Know it's temporary when you getting on my nerves
And when I'm in my bag you should never be concerned
It's for better or for worse
Put a letter in your purse saying you are every blessing on this earth

You've been stressing
I've been guessing
We've been texting
But where we supposed to go now?
Where we supposed to go now?
I said you've been guessing
I've been stressing
We've been texting
But where we supposed to go now?
Where we supposed to go now?

Way too many mixed messages
I'm getting from you
I have no idea what the fuck I should go and do
I'm trying my best to decipher what you want

You've been stressing
I've been guessing
We've been texting
But where we supposed to go now?
Where we supposed to go now?
I said you've been guessing

I've been stressing
We've been texting
But where we supposed to go now?
Where we supposed to go now?

I guess we'll never know
In another life

I guess we'll never know
In another life
