

Seven (Interlude)

KOTA The Friend

Little mama in the back, baby boy in my lap
Seven colors in the sky, I been fuckin' with the ride
I been jumpin' with the tide, ridin' invisible waves
Gettin' through critical days, tryna do minimal pains
Seein' the physical gains, lost in the digital fame
Always goin' with the flow, I ain't cut out for the game
Smile bigger through the lows, I ain't trippin' when it rains
Tryna see the rainbow, out the way I stay low Find a place and make home, drop a hat and that's that Had to learn to say "no", say "no" to gettin' mad
I just stick to my math, oh yeah that's him again
I know you watchin' me bubble like Michelin
I made it out of the ignorance, now I just give them the syllab us

Make it and never be bitter, always addressin' my pillars
I hit the floor then I get up, keep movin' on like I been up
Go with the grain, trust in my law
Won't let me in, I bust in the door
Blood in my veins, love in my pores
Son on the way, I'm up in the morn'
Stay in my lane, refusin' to change
If life it a bitch, I'm comin' in raw
I gotta create to know I'm alive
To know that there is always gon' be somethin' more Blessin' to yours

I'll ignore everybody, ya know, when I'm home
I'll ignore everybody to spend time with my kid Doesn't matter who you are, like doesn't matter how big the opp portunity, I don't care, you know what I mean Because at the end of the day, when all of this is done
And I'm not poppin' and you know, nobodies checkin' for me
I'm gunna still have a kid, and he's gunna, it's up to him
What he, takes away from our relationship, and um and He still needs to learn things and people always like People always tell me like "you're so cynical" but I'm like "on e day I'm gunna die", you know, and so, none of this would matt er
All of the work I put in, would not matter, strivin' Strivin' for the win, you know, as the Bible would say
And I just, I look at that and I take that to heart because, ma n
Since none of this would matter, I might as well balance ever-
I might as well balance it and have a good balance
So I can be happy and my child could be happy
These the most important things, you know
