

Another Home

Koven.

There's a place for both of us
In another home
In another bed
Where we can lie down
And just rest

I've been fighting it but now
I'm letting the voices out of my head
I know I'm empty but
I'm letting the ashes out of my chest

So take me home
Take me far
Take me anywhere we can get lost
Take me back
Take me there
Just take me anywhere

You touch me one last time
And it fills me up
Where something empty
There's something that's in love

Your voice is golden
And it still comforts me
But you grow older
And I know it's just with me

So take me home
Take me far
Take me anywhere we can get lost
Take me back
Take me there
Just take me anywhere

So take me home
Take me far
Take me anywhere we can get lost
Take me back
Take me there
Just take me anywhere

So take me home
Take me far
Take me anywhere we can get lost
Take me back
Take me there
Just take me anywhere
