

Cloudy

Krayzie Bone

It's the weekend, it's finally here, unfortunately the clouds may hang tight

Today it's going to be a very dreary day, so let's go ahead, take you live outside for a beautiful live picture, but you can see those clouds are hanging awfully low this morning."

Cloudy....

While the radar looks pretty clear to the back side of this, we can see a lot of clouds right now.... it's actually a cold front.

Overcast in my head keep my vision cloudy
Like gloomy weather, got me down, feeling really drowsy
Even though the sun is shining all around me
I seem to have a dark cloud, steady raining down on me
I try to shake it, can't escape it, pray for better days
Trying to find a better mind, set with never rage
I can't focus, there is too many obstacles
They say I'm hopeless, I used to pray to god before
But that's before I started hastily, chasing the devil
Living on the edge, fast paced, and racing the treble
Nobody here to help me weather through my bad storms
So my so called friends, I lost the love I've had for em'
So it's heavy rain with a chance of a hurricane
My forever pain runs deeply in my veins
I bleed struggle so I never see the rain
But forgive me if I make the wrong decisions everything's so cloudy

I guess I'll never see the sunshine
I never get to see the early morning sunrise
At night I look up in the sky, I know that one time
I can see the stars sometimes but the sky so cloudy
It's rainin', it's pourin'
It's rainin', it's stormin'
It's rainin', it's pourin'
It's stormin', it's so cloudy
[x2]

My god, it's hard to focus when your vision blurry
But my decision make a scurry, I live in a hurry
I'm plenty worried I can lose my soul
If I don't start acting like I'm supposed to know (better!)
I'd say a prayer but I know he probably fed up (crazy!)
I need a blessing I'm just giving a heads up
Now I'm weatherin' a bad storm, stand strong, it's the last one
And I ain't seen the sunshine, even when being on top of a world it wasn't right
And I've never been comfortable amongst the bright lights, something I'd like, believe me they living quite trife
Sometimes I feel like I might not live past the storm Seem like its been forever and forever just keeps passing on
I can't escape this bum weather, so it's just me and my umbrella ella, ella

Why does it rain on me? Why must it rain on me? Why does it rain, rain, rain?
? [x2]

Cloudy...

I guess I'll never see the sunshine
I never get to see the early morning sunrise
At night I look up in the sky, I know that one time
I can see the stars sometimes but the sky so cloudy
It's rainin', it's pourin'
It's rainin', it's stormin'
It's rainin', it's pourin'
It's stormin', it's so cloudy
[x2]

I can't see clearly, my mind is stolen
I don't want to go outside, cuz it won't stop pourin'
Walkin' in the rain, walkin' in the rain, walkin' in the rain, rain

As the high clouds are starting to drift in late in the day but we're going to to have to get used to that, more clouds are in the forecast...
