

Stone Cold

Kree Harrison

Hell froze over on a Sunday
And all the liquor stores are closed
Out of weed, ain't got no whiskey
And I'm down to my last smoke

I thought long and clear about it
How could you ever be so cruel
I guess ol' Hank was wrong
Cause your cheatin' heart never told on you

You went and left me stone cold
Stone cold, didn't you baby
Now I'm feelin' so lonely and sober to the bone
Ain't no shakin' these bad chills
Cheap thrills ain't here to save me
You poured your love on the rocks
Then you went and left me stone cold

I tried guided meditation
But all the good vibes just made me mad
Maybe I need medication
Before my head gets really bad
Your goodbye just went right through me
And your words they cut like ice
But it's the way she makes you happy
That really sends shivers down my spine

You went and left me stone cold
Stone cold, didn't you baby
Now I'm feelin' so lonely and sober to the bone
Ain't no shakin' these bad chills
Cheap thrills ain't here to save me
You poured our love on the rocks
Then you went and left me stone cold

I can see my breath
It scares me half to death it's really over
Now I'm all cried out
In a bone dry town
That don't get no colder than

Stone, you're stone cold ain't cha baby
Now I'm feelin' so lonely and sober to the bone
Ain't no shakin' these bad chills
Cheap thrills ain't here to save me
You poured your love on the rocks
Then you went and left me stone cold
Yea, you poured your love on the rocks
How could you leave me stone cold
