

Lady Killer

Kreesha Turner

I had a problem
I couldn't solve it
He had this flashy diamond smile,
But had no soul

I gave him loving
I gave him all I had
But when I needed his love back
His heart was cold

Well he told me
His love would never end
Then he sold me, and I bought it once again

Shot down, shot down
By a lady killer
I should have seen it coming from the start

Shot down, shot down
By a lady killer
He took his aim and shot straight through my heart.

And then it hit me
Saw him for what he was
I had to cut him loose think fast
And that was that

And then I saw him
He asked me how I'd been
Started begging, pleading, crying
The whole routine

Fool me two times
The shame is all on me
It's a nice try
But I'm not gonna make it three

Shot down, shot down
By a lady killer
I should have seen it coming from the start

Shot down, shot down
By a lady killer
He took his aim and shot straight through my heart.

You had me thinking it was a fairy tale
An old time movie just doesn't end as well
Shot by an arrow, blinded by your smile

Shot down, shot down
By a lady killer (Shot down, shot down, shot down)
I should have seen it coming from the start
(I should have seen it coming from the start)

Shot down, shot down (I shoulda' known you'd break my heart)
By a lady killer
He took his aim and shot straight through my heart.

(What a man what a man)

Shot down, shot down
By a lady killer
(Oh yes he was)
I should have seen it coming from the start
(What a man, What a man)

Shot down, shot down
By a lady killer
(Oh yes he was)
He took his aim and shot straight through my heart.

Shot down, shot down
By a lady killer
I should have seen it coming from the start

Shot down, shot down
By a lady killer
He took his aim and shot straight through my heart.

Shot down, shot down
By a lady killer
I should have seen it coming from the start

Shot down, shot down
By a lady killer
He took his aim and shot straight through my heart.

Shot down, shot down
By a lady killer
