This can't be how it ends
Wasted in ignorance
The bullets in your breath are
All I know, all I know
I'll never comprehend
Why you left me for dead
Promises broke and bent
I'm all alone, all alone

One more word before I break
Look before you fall from grace
Read my lips and shut your face
Maybe you're the one to blame
Same old story every day
Trip and fall and run away
The truth is gonna find you,

It's burning up inside you.

It still kills me (It still kills me)
That I can't change things, (That I can't change things)
But I'm still dreaming
I'll rewrite the ending,
So you'll take back the lies,
Before we say our goodbyes, say our goodbyes

The demons in your head Whispering sweet revenge The hands around your neck Take control, take control My fingers on the ledge Slipping with every threat I won't succumb to this So let me go, let me go

It still kills me (It still kills me)
That I can't change things (That I can't change things)
But I'm still dreaming
I'll rewrite the ending
So you'll take back the lies
Before we say our goodbyes, say our goodbyes

One more word before I break
Look before you fall from grace
Read my lips and shut your face
Maybe you're the one to blame
Same old story every day
Trip and fall and run away
The truth is gonna find you,
Life is gonna fuck you!

It still kills me
That I can't change things
But I'm still dreaming
I'll rewrite the ending
So you'll take back the lies
Before we say our goodbyes

Good, good, goodbye.
Good, good, goodbye.
Good, good goodbye.
