For Sure

Krezip

I know it's impossible to think of
To think of all the pain that you are in
But I'll try to be there for the better
To just be there for the worse

I know for sure that you will laugh again, someday
I know for sure she's looking at you now, and she's saying

I could try to tell you now that time will heal it all
It probably will be soothing but
It won't get it out

I know for sure that you will laugh again, someday
I know for sure she's looking at you now, and she's saying

I know for sure that you will laugh again, someday
I know for sure she's looking at you now, and she's saying

All to help you through
All to let you know
There's enough to go on
