Promise

Krezip

Sometimes, somewhere
You try to hide your mind for good
You know it ain't fair
But you're just misunderstood

Now try, just try to say
What's on your mind

Promise that you will say
Promises made so I'll just wait
Promise that you will tell me

So you took it on, so you took it home
And there we go again
So you took it on and there I tried to see
Why this is not me

I'll try, I'll try to see
What's on your mind

Promise that you will say
Promises made so I'll just wait
Promise that you

Why don't you know, why can't you see
That's it's not what it's supposed to be
Just what you are trying to be for me

Know, see
You're trying to make it right for me
Trying to see what it should be, for me

Promise that you will say
Promises made so I'll just wait
Promise that you will tell me

Promise that you will say
Promises made so I'll just wait
Promise that you will tell me it...

And you'll say
That someday it's too late...
