What It Takes

Krezip

Do I got what it takes to be down on the ground like you are (and still go on) Can I feel what it is to be loving my life like you're loving it (cause you're loving it all)

The strongest will survive
You've all got the strength to fight
But haven't all got the right

Do I got what it takes to be running to be far away from home Realize what is to know not to know if you ever can return (to the ones you love)

The strongest will survive
You've all got the strength to fight
But haven't all got the right

What will you feel when you see us like this Will you understand why it is

So you explained that you understand life Right after you told me I did

What will you feel when you see us like this Will you take it home like I did
