

If We Keep Doing Nothing

Kris Allen

The sun is set, the day is done
We laid to rest another one
A mother cries for her only son
Broken-hearted
We say a prayer, we start a fight
Don't know which to do tonight
'Cause either way, we end up right
Back where we started

No, we can't just look away
No, we can't just stay the same
No, we can't let tomorrow be another today
'Cause if we keep doing nothing
Then nothing will ever change

Well, I know you see it on the news
Asking which side are you gonna choose
Well, the game is real
So both sides lose
No one gets anywhere at all
And the house is burning to the ground
While all of us just stand around
A fight about what's bringing it down
Pointing fingers until it falls

No, we can't just look away
No, we can't just stay the same
No, we can't let tomorrow be another today
'Cause if we keep doing nothing
Then nothing will ever change

Something has got to be done
Before we lose another one

No, we can't just look away
No, we can't just stay the same
No, we can't let tomorrow be another today
'Cause if we keep doing nothing
Then nothing will ever change
