

Time Will Come

Kris Allen

Staring back into her eyes
The mother to my only son
And hear the distant trains roll by Feeling like I missed another one
She asked me if I lost my mind
Cause she can read me like a book
I said "if only days could happen twice"
"Then maybe I would know where to look"

Lately, I've been making friends with the doubts in my head
Hanging on every word that they said

I, I, I
I'm such a long way from where I
Long way from where I wanna be
I, I, I
I'm such a long way from where I
Long way from where I wanna be
But I'll keep on moving on
Cause I know my time will come

Look around and all I see
Is everyone else march alone (march alone, march alone)
Well, I'm here blaming gravity
For keeping me from where I belong

Lately, I've been making peace with the writings on the wall
Right now, even those don't make sense at all

But I, I, I
I'm such a long way from where I
Long way from where I wanna be
I, I, I
I'm such a long way from where I
Long way from where I wanna be
But I'll keep on moving on
Cause I know my time will come
Yeah, I know my time will come

Lately, I've been making friends with the doubts in my head
Hanging on every word that they said

But I, I, I
I'm such a long way from where I
Long way from where I wanna be
I, I, I
I'm such a long way from where I
Long way from where I wanna be
But I'll keep on moving on, mmm
Yeah, I'll keep on moving on, yeah
Yeah, I'll keep on moving on
Cause I know my time will come
Yeah, I know my time will come

So I'll keep moving on
Cause I know my time will come
So I'll keep moving on

Cause I know my time will come
So I'll keep moving on
Cause I know my time will come
So I'll keep moving on
Cause I know my time will come
