

Yesterday

Kris Lawrence

I know you're sick and tired of all the dark
All the dark that you've experienced
All the scars you're broken soul had to deal with
A lot of hurt, a lot of hurt
Let's clean up the dirt, up the dirt
No matter what somebody did wrong in your past
No matter what you did or didn't
Do you just laughed
'Cuz this day is the only day, the only day
I'm gonna start to pray, start to pray

God, please, help me to speak not just any words
But words straight from my heart

Let go of yesterday
Hold my hand now I'm with you
No need to be afraid
You'll never walk alone and face the pain
Let us smile and dance in the rain
We'll break the chains of mystery yesterday

How can God produce a miracle
In a messed up life like I have
I know it's critical
But does it actually mean to live life biblical
And not be hypocritical, not be hypocritical
My turn to speak
Before you seek all the answers to your questions
Just be ready to reach out
Without a doubt I know that you will find peace
Don't wanna be teachy
Let me pray before I preach

God, please, help me to speak not just any words
But words straight from my heart

Let go of yesterday
Hold my hand now I'm with you
No need to be afraid
You'll never walk alone and face the pain
Let us smile and dance in the rain
We'll break the chains of mystery yesterday

I'm not trying to change your ways
I'm just trying to take the pain away
Let me wipe away those tears
'Cuz when you know love you don't know fear
You just gotta trust me
And let love lead the way
Love is kind
Love has blessed me 'cuz you're so divine
And we'll do whatever it takes to make love stay
And never let it go away
Never let it go away
It's here to stay

Let go of yesterday

Hold my hand now I'm with you
No need to be afraid
You'll never walk alone and face the pain
Let us smile and dance in the rain
We'll break the chains of mystery yesterday
