

Day Glo

Kristin Hersh

Up this way down under the ocean Tumbled in anger by angry water Getting up is what hurts

In the bath tub again watching the water drain Twisted in slow-mo by angry water Getting up is what hurts Getting up is what hurts

Then you melt into the background (day glo) Then you melt into the background (day glo) Adding injury to your insult

This isn't drowning This isn't anything My silver lining This isn't anything Getting up is what hurts Getting up is what hurts

Then you melt into the background (day glo) Then you melt into
the background (day glo) Adding injury to your insult

You apply your "me repellent" I've lost everything You self sabotage machine Have you ever been mellow

When there's only enough drink to go around once To the left a shadow falls you look up Have you ever been mellow
