So let me in

You talk about love I know about love It don't grow on trees When the stars shine on me They shine sadly I know about love You talk about home This is my home There's no bricks, no stone When the wind comes calling 'round Who's to shelter me? Don't talk about home And I don't know why I'm standing on the outside and I'm looking in And how hard I try to be there Out of the dark and joining in Let me in Because Larry's gonna be there Mary's gonna be there Everyone will be there Man I want to be there Joe is gonna be there Susan's gonna be there Everyone will be there So let me in You talk about loss I know about loss I don't have much But those who have more Think that I've got enough I know about loss You talk about me Enough about me 'Cause I'll disappear like a child in the crowd You won't notice that I'm not here So let's not talk about me And I don't know why I'm standing on the outside and I'm looking in And how hard I try to be there, Out of the dark and joining in, Let me in Because Sara's gonna be there Mel is gonna be there David's gonna be there Oh, I gotta be there Dorothy's gonna be there Martin's gonna be there Seymour's gonna be there So let me in Ann is gonna there Vince is gonna be there Tony's gonna be there Man I want to be there Pam is gonna be there Jack is gonna be there Everyone will be there

And I don't know why
I'm standing on the outside
