

1/2 My Heart

Krystal Harris

when you came into my life i was so young
but not that it was your fault but things have changed it's time for you to know just how i feel i wish that i
had something else to say but that would be a lie now i realize

half of my heart is more than none of my love but less than what you want what you want
half of my heart is more than nothing at all but that's just not it's just not enough for love hope you understand

i never meant hurt
you in any way
but still i need to get this off my chest please listen to me
i wish the best that life has for you but it just can't be with me i'm so sorry

now i
know i promised you
to never leave
but how can i see it through if it's not in me
