Read Between The Lines

KSM

Everything used to be simple with you and me
A picture perfect world
I don't know what changed, but you're not the same
You sure know how to confuse a girl

We were all about hanging out
Never had a single doubt
We would be forever more
But lately you're so distant, almost somebody different
That I never met before

You say it's all right, but something's wrong
I can see it in your eyes
If I turn around, will you be gone
Are we running out of time?
I'm not stupid I see through it
I can read between the lines

Ooh (Ooh)
Ooh, Oh

You used to call to say you miss me
Now I guess you're way too busy
It isn't hard to tell
What we had is fading and
I hear what you're saying
But I don't believe it myself

If it's all good, then I should Feel better and I could pretend that Everything's okay
Call it intuition or a premonition
But I can feel you walking away

You say it's all right, but something's wrong
I can see it in your eyes
If I turn around, will you be gone
Are we running out of time?
I'm not stupid I see through it
I can read between the lines

Guess I've been wasting time
I couldn't read the signs
But don't you worry 'cause
I know how to say goodbye

oh oh oh oh

You say it's all right, but something's wrong
I can see it in your eyes
If I turn around, will you be gone
Are we running out of time?
you can tell me nothing changed but that would be a lie
Im not stupid i see through it
I can read between the lines
