Dr., Dr.

K.T. Oslin

Doctor, doctor, can you spare me a minute?
It's confidential just between you and me
Would you listen to my heart? Tell me how it's holding up
Am I strong enough to fall in love again?

Tell me doctor, how many times can a heart be broken
Before it refuses to mend again?
Will it give out suddenly, with warning?
Tell me how many loves have I got left?

I've been reading all about the miracles
Something wears out
You replace it with something brand new

But knowing my history, what would you prescribe for me?
Have I healed enough to try just one more time?

Tell me doctor, how many times can a heart be broken
Before it refuses to mend again?
Will it give out suddenly, with warning?
Tell me how many loves have I got left?
