

Hold Me

K.T. Oslin

Husband comes in and he said wife
Turn down the radio turn off the TV listen to me
Let me tell you about my day
So she sits down and she listens and he begins to speak

When I left here this morning I was bound and determined
I was never gonna come back never, never I was running
I was running from you darling I was running from my job
I was running from the kid in me he never knows when to stop
Got as far as the edge of town then I turned my car around
And headed back to you

Husband said wife what do you think, wife said it's very interesting
Before we talk about your day let's talk about mine and she says

When I left here this morning I was bound and determined
I was never gonna come back never, never I was running
I was running from you darling I was running from my job
I was running from some wrinkles and nail cream well stop
And got as far as the edge of town then I turned my car around
And headed back to you

Come here and hold me, tighter
Tell me tomorrow will be brighter
Kiss me, kiss me a little harder
Don't kiss like we're married kiss me like we're lovers

We looked at each other and we started to grim
This morning it was over this evening we'll start in the loving again

Come here and love me, hold me tighter
Won't you tell me tomorrow will be brighter
Won't you kiss me, kiss me, kiss me a little harder
Don't kiss like we're married kiss me like we're lovers
And hold me, hold me, hold me
