

Truly Blue

K.T. Oslin

You said, you saw me
I was with another guy
Said, it made you
Want to go home and cry
Well, I know just how you feel

Well baby, I caught you
But I never let you know, you'd been caught
But the straw that broke my camel's back
Was that blond too stupid to talk
I swore I'd get even, even if it's the last thing I do

But I'm just sittin' here waitin' for sweet revenge
And somebody told me it's sweet as sweet has ever been
Well, that somebody lied, honey all I do is cry
I evened it up the score but I went and lost the war

And now I'm truly blue
Since I don't have you
If I wrote my feelings down in a letter to you
I'd have to sign it yours truly blue

Now Miss Know It All
I'm sittin' here all alone
Yeah, but once in a while I pick up my phone
To see if the thing's still on
'Cause honey it ain't ringin'
I bet your phone is ringin' off the wall, wall

And honey oh, how I miss you
And if you were here I'd kiss you
Baby but baby
Baby, baby
You're somebody else' baby now

Now, I'm just sittin' here waitin' for sweet revenge
You know, somebody tell me it's sweet as sweet has ever been
Well, that somebody lied, honey all I do is cry
I evened it up the score but I went and lost the war

And now I'm truly blue
Since I don't have you
If I wrote my feelings down in a letter to you
I'd have to sign it yours truly blue
I'd have to sign it yours truly blue
