Drop In The Sea

Kula Shaker

Questions unfolding like books and their pages They just keep on turning for me And I keep on asking, Why every question will somehow relate back to me

Oh, I was told by a Knight of the Sun, That wisdom could set people free Be content in your questions And may I just mention

You're only a drop in the sea Direction revolving These questions I'm solving but nobody hears what I say My answers unspoken of sweetest emotion,

Believe how I feel today Just believe how you feel today
