

Last Song About You

Kurt Nilsen

If I'm to wrap it up in a song, it must be this one
Made you many, how we used to love
Not doing much these days, just feeling lonesome
Finding memories when you were the one

If I'm to wrap it up in a sentence, it must be this one
It'll take some time to heal a broken heart
Slowly getting better, starting to feel strong
Someday I'm right back, where I started from

It's all in the past now
This chapter is closed
It didn't work out the way
The way that we hoped
So you go live your life
And I'll be living mine
Here's a toast meant for two
And the last song I write about you

If I'm to wrap it up in advice, it must be this one
Just call it a sweet memory
I will smile so kindly, every time I see you
And wish you the best, and then go on

It's all in the past now
This chapter is closed
It didn't work out the way
The way that we hoped
So you go live your life
And I'll be living mine
Here's a toast meant for two
And the last song I write about you

Oh it's the last song
Oh it's the last song

Oh I miss you
How I miss you
The shape of your face slips away
I still miss you
Oh I miss you
Here's a song I know you'll never play

It's all in the past now
This chapter is closed (chapter is closed)
It didn't work out the way
The way that we hoped
So you go live your life
And I'll be living mine
Here's a toast meant for two
And the last song I write about you

It's all in the past now
All the dreams and plans we had
We gave it all up
So you go live your life

And I'll be living mine
And the last song I write about you
