For many years I tried and tried to understand
So many tears wasted over you
For many years I tried and tried to understand
So many tears wasted over you

For many years I tried and tried to understand
So many tears wasted over you
For many years I tried and tried to understand
So many tears wasted over you

For many years I tried and tried to understand
So many tears wasted over you
For many years I tried and tried to understand
So many tears wasted over you

For many years, years, years, years
For many years, years, years, years

Through all those years I came back time and time again
Convinced myself thats what I could do

Through all those years I came back time and time again
Convinced myself thats what I could do

Through all those years I came back time and time again
Convinced myself thats what I could do

For many years I tried and tried to understand
So many tears wasted over you

For many years, years, years, years
For many years, years, years, years

For many years I tried and tried to understand
So many tears wasted over you
Through all those years I came back time and time again
Convinced myself thats what I could do

For many years, years, years, years
For many years, years, years, years
