

Just a Fake Smile

Kyle Park

You think I'm fine,
Whenever I meet one of your old flames
We sit and talk, we laugh and joke
But I don't know his name
I've seen each time, you do me eyes
And you swear that things have changed
So I just smile,
And tell you I'm okay with everything

But it's just a fake smile
That I use when I'm angry
Or jealous, or nervous
So it don't matter

It's just a fake smile
Nothing real about it

It's just like our love
Let's forget about it

And latter on with no lights on
We play our usual game

I make you, you make me
And then you whisper his name
I let it go because I know
There's no way that things can change
So I just smile
And tell you I'm the only one to blame

But it's just a fake smile, you're fine
Meanwhile my heart is broken
But it looks like I couldn't be better

It's just a fake smile
Nothing real about it

It's just like our love
Let's forget about it

Until tomorrow, then I'll say
That I don't wanna be your lover
You can continue to call his name
And I'll just call it OVER

Well it's just a fake smile
That I use when I'm angry
Or jealous, or nervous
So it don't matter

It's just a fake smile
Nothing real about it

It's just like our love
Let's forget about it
