

She's Gone

Kyprios

Oh boy oh boy, she was my Almond Joy
With them almond eyes and when we harmonized damn
We employed my "Surd-a-bed" she cleared me up like Sudafed
She got it
And of course, I fell off the horse
Like 'what she didn't know won't altar the course'
Til what she didn't know went ahead and got ahold of her directly
Home wrecking and testing
Every last shred of her confidence in me
We continued though much more flimsy
All I had to do was be true, I blew it
I swear that's what I'm made to do, she knew it
Eventually, she's sensing we Didn't have a big future in defense she leaves
To another mans hands intensity
And I thought she was my destiny

My baby's gone
She's gone gone gone gone gone gone
She's gone she's gone
She's gone gone gone gone gone gone
She's gone, so long

I tried to take my time, I had a place in mind
Where the sun would shine upon my baby and I
I asked that girl to be mine, I guess I'll never know why
She told me sorry but ur way of life could not satisfy...
Yeah, cause I MC, rap outta emptiness
And I'm broke, don't attract even tempt a ms.
She want a better man, not under Kyp again
Who can make the paper like Dunder Mifflin
If and when, u meet that better gentleman
I will never be offended that u ever let him in
I just want her to be happy
I'm a fuckin kill myself or practice chastity shit
