Calibrate

Kyson

I don't know why
I caught the fear
I should have seen it coming
Wondered all these years

The brokers will
The battle signs
I should have seen you coming
Wondered all the time

But you don't know
That there's a feather in the rough

And I see your skin's like porcelain
A word or two could cripple me
Where are we now?

Let's make it work
Let's make it work

Smile on my face
Sat down in the cinema
The screens to small but we morph into the ceiling
The smokers eyes on battle scars
I should have seen it coming
Kind of made it hard

I jumped over, I jumped over
Just to calibrate the colours
I jumped over, I jumped over
Just to calibrate each other

And I see your skin's like porcelain
A word or two could cripple me
Where are we now?

Let's make it work
Let's make it work

Did I go too far
Did I go too far
Too deep into the blood
Did I go too far
Did I go too far

I jumped over, I jumped over
Just to calibrate the colours
I jumped over, I jumped over
Just to calibrate each other

And I see your skin's like porcelain
A word or two could cripple me
Where are we now?

Let's make it work
Let's make it work
