

Driveway

Kyson

You said there's something in the ceiling
And I was confused, waiting on the side
There's nothing here and there's not
Nothing that anybody could say or do
I was just a little one waiting for his mother to come home
But you know where to start all I needed was to ask you what to do

Now I know that's enough
You should have shared the struggle more
Now I know that's enough
But was it fair enough?

You said there's something in this feeling when you couldn't mo ve
Let's put up a fight
You felt the fear and there's nothing that anybody could say or do
But you are still the strong one
I feel it from the pressure that came down
So I tried to take him
But I should have asked you what to do

Now I know that's enough
You should have shared the struggle more
Now I know that's enough
But was it fair enough?

Now I know that's enough
