

Daughter (Stripped)

L Devine

Her love for soft lips and rosy cheeks
Her only secret that she would keep
'Til I saw her and she saw me, oh
Everyday meeting on the sly
Told our friends, and we told you lies
'Cause the world wasn't on our side, no

Well it's hard enough
Losing our innocence
Believe me, it's not easy, no
So say your worst
Trust me, your ignorance don't faze me
She's my baby girl

It goes against everything that you taught her
But I'm sorry miss, I'm in love with your daughter
You said, "What about kids? All the hopes I had for her?"
Well, I'm sorry miss, I'm in love with your daughter

I can't believe you would break a heart
Just to make sure that we're apart
Not your life, but you'll get what you want
And here's the part where we run away
Me and her take the great escape
I don't care 'bout a thing you say, no

Well it's hard enough
Losing our innocence
Believe me, it's not easy, no
So say your worst
Trust me, your ignorance don't faze me
She's my baby girl

It goes against everything that you taught her
But I'm sorry miss, I'm in love with your daughter
You said, "What about kids? All the hopes I had for her?"
Well, I'm sorry miss, I'm in love with your daughter

Maybe this ain't what you really wanted
But I'm sorry miss, I'm in love with your daughter
I know you wish that you hadn't caught her
But I'm sorry miss, I'm in love with your daughter

It goes against everything that you taught her
But I'm sorry miss, I'm in love with your daughter
You said, "What about kids? All the hopes I had for her?"
Well, I'm sorry miss, I'm in love with your daughter

It goes against everything that you taught her
But I'm sorry miss, I'm in love with your daughter
You said, "What about kids? All the hopes I had for her?"
Well, I'm sorry miss, I'm in love with your daughter
