The Creature

La Luz

Felt so tired I couldn't keep up my eyes
In the dark bittersweet sleep but wake in mind

A creature stepped out of the wall and then
In the blackness it amassed above my hand
Felt it creeping from my head down to my feet
The creature let me know that it would be walking with me

Couldn't move enough to reach and find a light
Tell my heart that it was only in my mind

The creature stepped out of the wall and then
In the blackness it amassed above my hand
Felt it creeping from my head down to my feet
The creature let me know that it would be walking with me
