

Boy King

LAB

I've been around, I've had many queens
They call me the clown, but I am the king
A lion who makes every noise, it means everything
A boy who threw out his toys, one day will be king, yeah

People around use him like a toy
A king and his crown, but he's just a boy
They tell him to do everything, but he knows what's right
The people that will do him wrong, try to take his life, yeah

Now he's a man, and his mind is strong
The people who plan, but their time was wrong
The king is standing at the throne, judging all that sinned
He tied them and he cut them down, they would never win, yeah
