He's ready to go, and he's on the run
Taking on the world, he's a man who owns a gun
He's ready for war, where there ain't no sun

He's heading for war where there ain't love
Taken from his home, he was born to love, but he's gone to war
He's thinking of home, where he wants to be
Fighting for a cause that makes no sense to the enemy
He's heading for war, where there ain't no love

Running through the trenches, he's gotta run and hide
Oh lord can you help me, I don't wanna fight
Oh I got a family, I wanna go home
To a place where I wanna be, Lord I don't want no more
He's heading for war, where there ain't no love

He's heading for war, where there ain't no love
He's on the run, 'cause he can't take no more
