Light up these pages
Let me tell you a story
Of a woman that's seen it all
She lived a life of a dreamer
Had the world on her shoulders
But you know in her eyes there's still more
I can tell by her smile she feels warm
Ooh, yeah

And the story goes by through her soul
And the room comes alive through that door

I see the changes
Of a world that's broken
It's not hard to see what we've done
If he says he loves you
But the words have no meanings
You can fall in the dark, come to the light
'Cause I know in your heart, you will fly
Ooh, yeah

Oh, it's so crazy
In a world full of maybe
It's a choice we make in our lives
You can walk through the shadows
But it's hard to survive
I can see the light of the sun

Ooh, you gotta make me feel alive, oh, yeah
Ooh, can you hear me now? Oh
Take me, oh
Oh
