

Oh No (Pt. 2)

LAB

I don't know how she lives the life she brings
Crazy living on a string
No one can take her down
Making trouble in her town
No one answers with her loving relations
And that's the price for her freedom
She's taking all the drugs, she's free
Living on the ecstasy

Oh no, she'll set your heart on fire
Oh no, she's gonna play you like a choir, yeah

'Cause every man would want what every man can't have
You have to break these chains, to make another day
If everything we do was left up all to you
We'd never change our ways, to make the same mistake

He's watching everything, he sees
His time, his opportunity
No one can take her hand
"I love you" she tells every man
Well, she'll keep you just to hide all your worries
Sleep with you and take all your money
Don't go with her, just have a look
Your heart and everything she took

Oh no, she'll set your heart on fire
Oh no, she's gonna play you like a choir, yeah

'Cause every man would want what every man can't have
You have to break these chains, to make another day
If everything we do was left up all to you
We'd never change our ways, to make the same mistake

'Cause every man would want what every man can't have
You have to break these chains, to make another day
If everything we do was left up all to you
We'd never change our ways, to make the same mistake

Oh no, she'll set your heart on fire, yeah yeah
Oh no, she's gonna play you like a choir, yeah yeah
Oh no, she'll set your heart on fire, yeah
Oh no, she's gonna play you like a choir, yeah
