

Oldman

LAB

Old man looking 'round with a faded memory
Think now while you got the chance to be who you want to be
See, your freedom is on my mind and I don't want to face that pain
Oh, no

Old man looking down trying to speak
Speak now while you got the chance to say what you wanna say
See, your freedom is on my mind and I don't want to face that pain
Oh, no

See now, the people try and talk to him with the same old stories
Finding it hard at times, but don't fight that fact
Talking through his history of peace and glory
Seek all the times he remembers most of being young and free
'Cause this moment will be gone

Young man looks around and now he can see
That the colors of a rainbow don't change when it pours with rain
Now he feels that to face the day, he doesn't have to look away no more
Ooh, ooh

See now, the people try and talk to him with the same old stories
Finding it hard at times, but don't fight that fact
Talking through his history of peace and glory
Seek all the times he remembers most of being young and free
Yeah, yeah

See now, the people try and talk to him with the same old stories
Finding it hard at times, but don't fight that fact
Talking through his history of peace and glory
Seek all the times he remembers most of being young and free

Be free
Go on, let yourself be free
You've got the old man looking down
Watching down over you
Oh, oh yeah
