

A New Dream

Labyrinth

All around things are changing

For everyone of us

I feel the need to rest my heart and mind

Go, if you wanna go

And never look back in anger

But if you wanna stay

Measure all your words, you don't have to complain

Sooner or later

It'll be your turn again

Are you experienced to hold the reins?

Don't be afraid today

Do not be scared to change

The road you're on

No! maybe you don't know

Our brain is infected

Stop look into my eyes

And tell me where we went wrong

Once and for all

Sooner or later

It'll be your turn again

Are you experienced to keep the route?

Don't be afraid today

Do not be scared to change

The road you're on

Don't be afraid today

Do not be scared to change

The road you're on

Don't be afraid today

The sands are flowing

And a new dream will come

For each one of us
